CORE VALUES

A community's values are deeply held and widely-shared beliefs that serve as building blocks for the community's vision and shape how decisions are made. They can evolve over generations, but are durable and have a lasting impact. Once identified, these values and their complementary planning principles will form a decision-making framework for the new plan.

WHAT ARE OUR COMMUNITY VALUES NOW (2000-2025)?

Please list one-word descriptions for the City of Westfield over the past 25 years. Ask yourselves...

- What values have been at the core of the community for the past generation?
- Who have we been as a community in recent decades?
